As soon as the storm had passed the people of Perry and Lawrence were summoned to the scene. The desola tion was awful and the bunt with lanterns over the wind swept spet for the dead and dying commenced. All inght long this work was in progress.
A corps of physicians from the two towns were quartered at Perry two miles distant, administering to the wants of the critipled and mained while citizens from the towns were gathering the dead and dying from the prairie and laying them out in a large building provided for that purpose. It was 1 o clock in the afternoon before the last dead body was found.

the last dead body was found. The strip of country swept by the cyclone is left as barren as a floor. In the Williamstown schoolhouse were found the dead bodies of the Kincande family, consisting of father, mother and four children. The youngest child is without its head, it being blown or cut off and carried away by the wind. One of the children was found, three miles from the house.

of the children was found three nules from the house.

At Arthur Even a farm a quarter of a mule northeast of Williamstown everything is destrojed. Evans ran into his basement but was found dead three rods from the house in the field. Mrs. Evans also took shelter in the basement and escaped with her life, but is ladly injured. Mrs. Evans father was in the rear portion of the basement, which was dug in the bluff, and escaped unhurt.

At the Hutchinson farm, which was northwest of Williamstown, Mrs Hutchinson lost her life and Mr Hutch inson was slightly injured. Seven head of horses were killed here. Some of the horses were blown a quarter of a mile

It is useless to cry over spilt milk. The ray out of our difficulty is to retrace our teps. The prospect grows steadily brighter for the suspension of silver purchases when congress shall have assembled; and the cxpectation of this result has already had its effect in improving the business situation—I hiladelphia liteorit, Cleveland left nearly $100,000,000 free gold in the treasury in 1889; then times were easy and money plenty. Harrison left only $850,000 free gold in the treasury tailing position for the United States as 4, No. 6) cost at wholesalo $19.12 in regards its currency, to thus be at the England and $32.01 in New York. The Herrison reduction of the number of a few silver mine of mers — Boston labor cost of making in Trenton is $5.86. The Harrison reduction of the surplus is the principal cause of hard times and lo-

The Portsmouth Times sums up the situation in the following terse paragraph. ation in the following terse paragraph:

Bank failures, shutting down of mills and tight money, instead of being due to a Lemocratic administration, are the legitimate fruits of Mr. Harrison's term, and follow in the wake of his administration as naturally as famine follows a failure of crops. The present state of things was predicted before he retired from office. It fails on the Democratic party, however, and will have to be accounted for by that party. Thus is the party now in power bandicapped by the sins of the Republican party.

If the Mills hill had become a law and wool had declined in price, every Republican in the land would have charged the decline to the reduced tariff. Instead of the Mills bill and a lower tariff, a Republican Congress enacted the McKinley bill, which increased the duty on wool, and yet the market price of wool has declined nearly fifty per cent. in three years. Inas much as lower prices have invariably followed an increase of tariff duties on woo it is but fair to attribute the present low prices to the McKinley high tariff, TARIFFS AND WAGES. DUTIÈS PROTECT THE MANUFAC-TURER NOT THE LABORER.

ments of a Protectionist Exposed-Pro tect the Worker, Not the Products of His Skill.

The American Economist, the organ of the protected manufacturers, has for three months been publishing letters criticising the proposed tariff bill of the Reform club. These letters were solicited by The Economist from manufac-Campbell, and bis refusal to meet the elo-quent Co. McClme. of the Philadelphia were a sorry lot. Not only were the criticisms puerile, but the writers are na man to be implied in his intellectual re-ources. McKinley, when allowed to de-ing his pressured, when allowed to de-in labor circles. Indeed there is in some of their letters internal evidence that they have been used as mouthpieces of their employers.

There is one letter, however, from workingmen which merits attention. It is from Mr. George E. Murray of New York city. Mr. Murray is chairman of the board of arbitration of District Assembly No. 40, Knights of Labor, and has been master workman and statisti-cian in this district. He is a painter by trade and is recognized among labering men as an honest, consciontious mun. even when he is advocating "protection" and other theories and measures not in the interest of the laboring man.

In New York there $1,500 worth of labor will be done in has been a diministra of $ 20,000,000 in some other country; $1,500 worth of la hor at a fair average represents the labor of three working men for a year."

This is the foundation for all of Mr.

Murray's criticism. He is a full blooded protectionist who regards all importations as a curse, because 90 per cent of the fact that we pay for imported goods with the products of our labor, and the solo reason why we import some goods and make others is because we can in this way obtain more for our labor We import ten, coftee, sugar, rice, lemons, etc., and export cotton, corn, beet, pork, agricultural implements, hardware, etc., because it is in this way that we can get more of the necessities and Inxuries of life.

All men and all countries are not adapted alike to the production of the same articles, and if they were it would still pay some men and some countries the press deserve much, the large majority tain industries and products, and to exord whom serve the public well and ably, change to obtain other products. Mr. Murray ovidently would stop all of this exchange. He is so anxious to do all of the work himself that he will not trade with a man in Canada or Europe, who can produce the required article for one half what it will cost to produce it at

No. 6) cost at wholesale $19.12 in The duty on the imported English ware is $10.51. Mr. Murray will observe (1) that the labor cost is here less than 20 per cent (about what Porter's present census figures will show) and not 75 or 99 per cent, as Mr. Murray says; (2) that the duty is about twice the labor cost, leaving a considerable margin for the pottery trust; (3) that by abolishing deties on granite were we would save about

$2 for every $1 paid labor. Mr. Murray may not know it, but the potters have several times expressed opinion on the tariff question. They have seen wages go down while the tariff went up. In 1874, when their wages were cut down, they petitioned congress ported pottery, declaring that the only result of the tariff was to faise the price of goods and that it benefited the manufacturer and not the laborer. In 1883 duties were raised. In 1885, after another strike, the manufacturers and ceeded in reducing wages 8 per cent. In 1890 duties were again raised. In De cember, 1890, the sanitary ware combine. composed of the nine manufacturers in Trenton, East Liverpool and Baltimore reduced wages from 10 to 40 per cent. After a strike of six months an average reduction of about 15 per cent was accepted. During the strike the combine advised dealers to import sanitary ware from England until workmen would accept a reduction. In April, 1801, the combine raised the prices of its wares. Some of the finest mansions in Tronton are owned by the manufacturers of pottery who have grown wealthy in a few

Can't Mr. Murray see that the reduccion proposed would reduce the prices of pottery? That much more would be demanded at the lower prices? That while we might make less of some kinds we we might make less or some mads we would make much more of other kinds than at present? That this would cause a demand for potters and a probable in crosse in wages? That the reduced durantees in wages? That the reduced durantees in wages?

ties, prices and profits would probable break the coubline which now has the potters at its mercy? That there is no comection between tariffs and wages? That duties are on goods—whit work-ingmen must buy, and not on labor—all they have to sell? The same kind of rea soning applies to the glass, woolen, iron and steel and silk industries, which Mr.

Murray mentions.

He dreads to return to "the terriple poverty and starvation of the last free rade period which immediately preceded the civil war," just as if statistics di not show, what Blaine is compelled to admit in his "Twenty Years of Con-gress," that the 14 years previous to 1861 were, as regards farming, manufactured and wages, the most prosperous in our history.

Mr. Murray's ideas on wages appear to be slightly muddled, He says "that labor organizations make the price at which labor may be sold, and in that way benefit all by keep Composer Glack at Work When Gluck composed his immort works, a bottle of champagne was al ways placed on either side of the pano, and its effervencence helped to inspire the great arias of "Iphigenia," "Armida" and "Alceste." When the final rehear-eals were held of the "Iphigenia," Ginck had not yet written the melody to the "Dance of the Scythlans." Naverre, the the ballet master, becoming uneasy over the delay, went to him one morning to urge him to harry it up. As he entered the composer's antercom he heard unusual and terrific noises emanating from Gluck's hibrary. He approached stealthily, and through a crack in the door saw Gluck in shirt sleeves, his face as red as fire and distorted by horrible grimaces singing, gesticulating and jumping about like a madman. Naverre, frightened by the extraordinary specialle, pushed the door open. "Ah, there you are," exclaimed Gluck. "I am just finishing your dance and will let you has it right away." It was then that Gluck had composed that grand orgie of the savages which created such a profound eensation on the stage. St. Long Phar-Dispatch.

Your Painter has often wasted time and material in trying to obtain a shade of color, and has even resorted to the use of ready mixed paints, the ingredients of which he knew nothing, because of the diffi-culty in making a shade of color with white lead. This waste can be avoided by the use of National Lead Company's

Pure White Lead Tinting Colors

These tints are a combination of perfectly pure colors, put up in small cans, and prepared so that one pound will tint 25 pounds of Strictly Pure White Lead to the shade shown on the can. But this cases were will be the By this means you will have the best paint in the world, because made of the best materials—

Strictly Pure White Lead

and pure colors. Insist on having one of the brands of white lead that are standard, manufactured by the "Old Dutch" process, and known to be strictly pure: "Armstrong & McKelvy"

"Beymer-Bauman" "Eckstein"
"Fahnestock" "Anchor"
"Kentucky" "Morley" "Davis-Chambers" "Davis-Chambers"
These brands of Strictly Pure White Lead and National Lend Co.'s Pure White Lead Inting Colors are for sale by the most reliable dealers in paints everywhere. If you are going to paint, it will pay you to send to us for a book containing information that may save you many a dollar; it will only cost you a postal card.
